Dear MacDonald! Your article and the remarks of Mr. Torrey on your ~~Ali Babas~~ which I read this morning, reminds me again of you. Why do you not send me some emanation of your pen, which I like to get always and which I welcome as a friendly echo from of my sentiments from far lands? I wrote you about Christmas time; I hope the card reached you. Is the book, you announced me in your last letter not yet appeared? I see from your very interesting communication to the IRAS that you take the matter of the Gollard deb. very earnestly in your hand. Have you a photo of it?

My own working in these times is not worth mentioning. Do you know, if the Library of Yale will publish a Catalogue of the Arabic collection (Londberg) acquired by the University?

Many hearty greetings to Mrs. MacDonald from us both. Yours faithfully
T Goldschmidt
